

Department of Economics, University of Kerala
Kariavattom Campus, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala-695581

Call for Application

Three Day National Workshop on
Academic Writing and Doctoral Colloquium

Dates: 7-9 March 2019

Venue: Seminar Hall, Department of Economics

About the Workshop

Writing thesis, report and article are compulsory in higher education, particularly for research. Proficiency in academic writing helps one to build writing capacity and create new knowledge. The Department of Economics proposes to organise two day academic writing workshop to facilitate and enrich the quality of academic writing. It is open to all the scholars who have the particular objective.

About the Colloquium

The main objective of the colloquium is to stimulate sound doctoral research. The colloquium provides doctoral students the opportunity to present their work-in-progress to an open forum. Students receive feedback on their PhD work from experts and participants.

The presenters in the colloquium will be selected by a review committee based on their description of the synopsis of Ph.D research. The synopsis should include research problem, objectives, hypotheses, methodology and major challenges of the researcher. It is restricted to students doing PhD in different areas of Economics.

Dead lines

Application	: 25 February 2019
Notification of acceptance	: 27 February 2019
Dates of Academic Writing Workshop	: 7-8 March 2019
Date of Colloquium	: 9 March 2019

There is no registration fee and the application may be sent to anitha.palavila@yahoo.com

Registration and Contact

Dr. Anitha V.
Associate Professor and Organising Secretary
Department of Economics, University of Kerala
Email: anitha.palavila@yahoo.com
Mob: 9446361223/9539204587

Dr. Abdul Salim A.
Professor and Head
Department of Economics,
University of Kerala
Email: abdulsalim01@gmail.com
Mob: 9446476187